Light From Niaga

N. Y. Star. Natural science is by slow but sure degrees exterting strange secrets from hature. Every now and then we are s'artled with some astounding discovery and the end is not yet. The latest summons our great show waterfall from its grand but useless monotony of ever tumbling waters to minister to our eeds. Niagara is to be utilized! The great cataract is to become our lamp-lighter. The main difficulty to be overcome by scientific men in the employment of electricity for lighting purposes would seem to be the transmission of force. Distance, as in other agents. was of no consequence. The resistance, unlike that of a pipe for water, is not affected by the volume of the current. The difficulty was to keep the conductor from being neated by the increased force, the heat increasing the resistance. A Preventive of Fires, A form of sprinkler has been devised and put into some of the New England cotton mills, which it is thought, will solve the great fire extinguishing problem of putting the water exactly where it is needed. To get at the fire is the great aim, and a small quantity of water thrown directly on burning material is generally sufficient. The ordinary sprinklers placed over the ceilings of rooms in mills and factories, through which water can be forced in case of a fire on the blaze beneath, have not been entirely satisfactory. The apertures of the pipes of the sprinkler have filled with dust and lint, and when needed have frequently proved inoperative. Republican Republican Machinations--The Duties of The South.

Correspondence of The News. There are times, in the history history of parties, when the members thereof feel called upon to face grave difficulties, menacing the integrity of their political organizations and shrouding the future with gloomy appreheusions of approaching ill. It is simply blind fatuity to deny that we stand in the presence of a state of things anything but pleasant and assuring to us as Democrats. The sentinel upon our watch tower is singing no song of security in the calm starry night, because fir slong the edge of the distant horizon smaller prophetic clouds tell him dangers are lurking in those signs full of import and meaning. To be prepared to meet the worst, if it should came, is the part of wisdom and the dictates of duy. If by careful and prudent management the ship can brave the billows and ride out the storm, millions of patriotic hearts will rejoice over her salety. Fully imbued with a sense of the dangers that environ us, a few observations in relation thereto. I opine, will not be deemed inappropriate or in-opportune on this occasion.

The late elections at the North, by whatever agencies accomplished, were certainly disasters to the Democratic party. That they have infused into be Republican party more enthusiasm, energy and hope than usually animated it, seems to admit of no doubt, and that they expect great and important results to follow in future is clearly evident. They appear to regard us as hanging on the "ragged edge" of defeat. To this conclusion I cannot assent. I believe there is vitality sufficient in the Democratic party to make it equal to all emergencies, and inherent strength enough in its organization when fully aroused to cope with any adverse circumstances by which it may be surrounded. Our first duty is to consider the situation in all its aspects, and then proceed to devise such remedial measures as will remove all objec tions to its complete efficiency. With this done "we can pluck from the nettle danger, the flower safety." Will we take these necessary steps to reap in full function the hopes we cherish in the future "Nous verrons," as Father Ritchie used to say. Every incentive urges us to vigorous action.

Let us look in the face some of the dangers we have to encounter. A brief allusion to the past will suffice for thie purpose. Let us look into its silent depths for a lesson. Before doing so, I owever, let us premise by saying power is the chief obend justifies the means. is often a better system of political ethics.

To illustrate: At the close of the civil war, instead of restoring the Southern States to their proper places in the Union, the Republican party, for the sake of retaining power and keeping alive sectional animosities, would listen to no spirit of conciliation, but enforced the policy of hate and dis-franchisment until they thought they were firmly and unchangably established as the sole administrators of every branch of the Government. But time is said to make all things equal, and a great change has been brought about. The 'solid South begins to be a power in the land. She must be humbled. The missiles of political warfare must be hurled at her, and she must never be permitted to exercise her proportionate part of power in the administration of our national affairs. Hence we see now the prominent and leading men of the Republican party endeavoring to revive sectional isssues with all their bloody memories, and excite sectional antipathies with tenfold intensified bitterness, in order that their rule may be prolonged. As a part of programme the South is to be watched with a sleepless eye, to be taunted with the most provoking reflections in the effort to obtain campaign material, to inflame the loyal Northern heart. Thus they seek to hold on to power. This mode of warfare must be met. The "solid South" owes it as a duty to her Northern friends, and as a still higher duty to herself, to be moderate in our public councils, temperate in speech, and tolerant in conduct; so by the exemplifications of her noble virtues she may put her enemies to shame, and win the respect, confidence and admiration of he larger portion the American peorle. In this manner we trust she may able to stay the tide of passion set in motion against her, and prove herself fully as patriotic as any section of the Union. Let people of the North remember the civil war is over, and all legislation must be moulded for the good of the whole country. This is fair, just and right and we ask no more, nothing but co-equality with the East and West. We wish to fight over no battles, but join all patriots in securing sound legislation and enjoying the triumphs of peace. It was a beautiful custom among the Greeks in commemorating their victories to rear monuments of perishable wood and not of stone to their heroes, so that all reminders of blood and strife might soon be obliterated from the minds of both victors and vanquished, and amity and good feeling prevail This is what we most ardenily desire to see in our own and, perfect concord between the secbetween Massachusetts and tions. Louisiana, between Illinois and the Carolinas-all alike zealous in pro moting honest and just rule throughout the confines of the Republic.

RALEIGH, Dec., 11. It was the good fortune of the writer, a comparatively recent citizen of Raleigh, to be present a few evenings since at St. Mary's, that time-honored and thoroughly improved institution for the Christian education of young ladies, where the Operetta of Red Riding Hood was so pleasantly rendered by the young ladies of the school for the entertainment and, I will add, profit of the public who attended. It was an artistic and thoroughly successful performance; but there is just one feature of this and several similar previous entertainments given by the young ladies of this excellent school, that I have not seen mentioned. I mean their Christian and therefore thoroughly enjoyable character. In his respect I respectfully submit the Raleigh pub-

An emine at American divine a few years ago said: "Recreations have a lawful place in every well-ordered life. There must be something wrong in that state of society which makes no room for them. There must be some great misunderstanding or abuse of time, when people become ashamed of them or despise them. The faculty in us which demands them and is gratified by them, is as much a part of our constitution as any other. God planted it there; and though he has taught us in many ways, how great the danger is of being led astray by it. He has no-where denounced or forbidden the thing itself. Those educators commit a mournful mistake and show an absuru want of education in the principles of human nature who undertake to crush it out, or fight it down, or ignore it. They aim to make ascetics, and end with making villains. What they crowd aside and condemn as unlawful, is nevertheless sought out and practiced, though with the feeling that it is unlawful; and thus conscience is absurd, and the heart is made worse than it need be. True Christianity nowhere pronounces sentence against amusements. What it rebukes is the excess to which it is carried: and the bad practices and passions which spring up around it, and are perpetrated in its name.

The Rev. Rector of St. Mary's and his corps of experienced assistants evidently endorse these sentiments, and they are wise therein. These musical entertainments are such as any Christian of tenderest healthful, religious influence and effect. They have without exception inculcated some important moral lessou, as that of Red Riding Hood, for example, did the obligations of parental obedience and the invariable evil consequences that sooner or later follow a violation of the fifth commandment. The rehearsals for these most chaste, refining and enjoyable musicals in no way interfere with the scrictly scholastic duties of the pupils; but rather give them only greater zest in their studies from the necessary relaxation that they afford. They cultivate their musical power and give them a grace and ease of manner that nothing else so well could, and they teach them especially to draw, as true Christian people must, the proper distinction between healthful, innocent and so proper amusements, and such as are not. And what is thus so manifestly for their good and pleasure is at the same for the entertainment, pleasure and profit of their friends and the public. I repeat, Raleigh owes St. Mary's a debt of real obligation for these entertainments of such high character. The public could only be beuefitted by their more frequent occurrence. A CITIZEY.

a Levy of Taxes Beyond the Constitutional Limitation, WELDON, N. C., Dec. 10, 1878. Correspondence of the News The injunction sued out to stop the unconstitutional taxation which has so long afflicted this county attracts much attention. A new question has arisen here, Notwithstanding our heavy taxation the county scrip has sold far be-low par. Much of this had been bought up for speculation and sued on. Upon these judgments and other judgments mandamuses have been issued to the Board of County Commissioners to levy taxes to pay them. Some of the hold ers of these contend that the levy under these mandamuses are in excess of, and can not be contravened by, the constitutional limitations. The mandamus of a Superio Court Judge cannot repeal the constitution, and can only compel a levy up to, and not beyond, the constitutional limitation. Work on the Washington Monument is to be again abandoned. A score of more of plans have been submitted for strengthening the foundation, although there is grave doubt that the foundation needs strengthening. Neariy every engineer in the army, including Babcock, has reported on the foundations of the Washington Monument. Colonel Casey, however, who is in charge of the public buildings and grounds in Washington, it seems, has never had an opportunity to tell what he thinks and to suggest a plan for the foundation. On Saturday President Hayes, W. W. England Must Fight.

$5.00 PER ANNUM

In the debate of the House of Lords last evening upon the Government motion converting certain portions of the Indian revenue to the use of sustaining the Afghan war, Lord Cranbrook expressed forcibly and exactly the opin-ion of the great mass of Englishmen when he said: "England must be paramount in Afghanistan, which must be a friendly janitor to the doors of India, or—England must hold the key her-self." Whatever may be the abstract rights or wrongs of the Afghan war, the practical fact has been steadily obtruding itself ever since the Russian dvance passed southward of Bokhara and Samarcand that the Czar and the Empress must come to an understanding either through diplomacy or war as to which of them should claim and hold the Ameer's vassalage. Until the Ameer has been punished severely and his enforced friendship secured, the "doors of India" will not be well held, por will the keys be in safe hands. Russia may for the time being abandon Shere Ali—though the retreat of his family to Russian territory for protection does not support this view of the situation-and leave him to the tender mercies of his enemies; but the abandonment will not be lasting, for Russia "Well, as to that, so long as the right of the people of the South to self-government is made an issue in spoil. But whether England fights only the Ameer, or the Ameer and the Czar together, she must fight until she wins; it is too late now to back down. tent, and the moralities of the situation will justify almost all that the Opposition can urge; but the practical side of the situation must force the fighting till a decisive result is secured. This is what Lord Craubrook felt when he moved his resolution; this is what will be felt by the members of both Houses when his resolution is adopted, and this is what will be felt by the rank and file of the English nation when approv-

Washington Post. Gen. Devens has finally and decisively announced to Mr. Hayes his determination to retire from the Cabinet. He has not been entirely satisfied with his ly, Mr. Hayes expressed his regrets at Gen. Deveus' determination, saying it administration has not yet decided who shall have his place. Senators Hoar interest was reduced from 3.65 to 3 per and Edmunds have been mentioned, centum per annum. The original bili and so has C. B. Lawrence of Illinois, authorized the exchange of certificates who was a member of the Louisiana for "notes or coin," but this was strick- commission. It has been suggested, too, that the position of Attorney-General be given to Mr. Key, and that Eugene Hale be appointed Postmaster-General. Mr. Key's friends say, how-ever, that he is satisfied with his present position, and it may be positively stated that Gen. Devens' successor is not yet determined upon. What Tilden Thinks.

New York letter to Philadelphia Ledger. I met Governor Tilden coming down Nassau street this afternoon on his way to the Third national bank. The old gentleman expres es the conviction that there is to be a bigger breeze on the silver dollar question, in congress than the banks and the clearing-house people here anticipate. He talks with some misgivings about the tendency of some of the republican leaders and journals to enter upon the next presidential campaign by inflaming the northern mind with reported outrages on the colored population of the south. He thinks Mr. Conkling and his friends have agreed upon that as their programme, but trusts something will happen to upset it. He does not like General Grant, but, if compelled to choose between the two-that is, if he were a republican and a lover of peace—he would rather have him than Conkling. He is of opinion, however, that the country will have no occasion for the services of either, as the successor of Mr. Hayes, notwithstanding the adverse symptoms afforded by the recent elections, is morally certain to be a democrat, and then everything will be union and harmony. Objection of Naturalization of Chinese. Courier-Journal.

The objection offered to the naturalization of Chinamen is that only "white" aliens and black aliens born in Africa, or of African descent, c: n b allowed under the Constitution the privilege of becoming American citizens. The admission to citizenship of other branches of the Turanian race, who are by no means white, would seem to meet the objection to Mongolian naturalization. The law does not specify the Aryan and Negritic races as the sole subjects of the privilege, and it is obvious that there should, in that case, be a new definition of the word

"white." Liability of Ina-Keepers,

In the United States Supreme Court, Henry Elcox et al., plaintiffs in error, against Sarah A. Hill, administratrix, &c., in error to the Circuit Court of the United States for the northern district of Illinois, came up. The controversy in this cause relates to the liability of inn-keepers. The court holds it a settled that where property is lost or stolen in a hotel through the personal negligence of the gnest, the liability of the inn-keeper does not exist; that if the guest does not leave his valuables in the safe provided by the inn-keeper he must bear his own loss, unless it occurs by the hand or through the carelessness of the landlord or his employes. Judgment affirmed, with costs.

ORGAN OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY The News Building, No. 6. Martin Stree

Corbin is in Washington pressing his claims to Gen. M. F. Butler's seat in the Senate, and his friends state that the Committee on Privileges and Elections will shortly report in his favor. There is little prospect of the report being adopted, as it is understood that Senators Patterson and Conover are unchanged in their views upon the matter, and will vote with the Demo-

Woman suffrage in Wyoming is a failure. For a year or two the plan worked tolerably well, but latterly the privilege has been virtually surrendered by the better class of women in the Territory. They have become disgusted with the scarvy tricks of the politician and the scenes they have been compelled to witness at the polls, and now abstain from voting altogether. The right to vote is still exercised by the lower classes of Wyoming women, and they are reported to engage as actively in the canvass and in all the little tricks of political trade as the stern-

The north is nearly as solid against radicalism as the south. In all of the larger and more influential states there is an anti-republican majority, and that majority is steadily increasing. In 1876 the anti-republican majority in the northern states was, in round numbers, two hundred and fifty thousand; this year it is fully three hundred thousand. The southern states bring this immense aggregate up to fully half a million votes. The difficulty does not, therefore, consist in the want of opposition to the party of centralization and untold corruption, but in the want of harmony among the elements of opposition. If the opposition had been combined in the late elections the north would have been overwhelmingly antirepublican.

Judge Buckner's new silver bill provides for the repeal of so much of the silver bill as authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to buy bullion and coin standard silver dollars at a fine that you can pass them through a monthly, and provides that the Secretary of the Treasury be authorized and directed to purchase not less than $7 000,000 worth per month of silver bul lion at the market rate, and coin the same into standard silver dollars each month, until the market value of silver bullion at New York is at par with coined standard silver, and all coinage of subsidiary coins and trade dollars shall cease. Whenever coined standard silver bullion shall be at par at New York the Secretary of the Treasury shall discontinue the purchase of silver bullion, and thereafter silver bullion shall be coined into standard silver dollars on the same terms as are now provided as to the coinage of gold, provided the cost of the coinage of either gold or silver shall not exceed the actual average cost of material, labor, and wastage, and the use of the machinery employed. Any owner of one hundred standard silver dollars or any multiple thereof may present the same at the office of the Assistant Treasury at New York or at the mint at Philadelphia, and at such other mints and offices of Assistant Treasurers as may be designated by the Secretary of the Treasury, and on demand shall receive therefor a like amount of gold coins at par.

How to Secure a Fair Election.

The bill introduced by Senator Edmunds, to remedy certain errors in the method of electing the preside nt, is but one of many with that an object in view. But it possesses certain features which may be discussed. It is at once a defense and an indictment. The changes he proposes are an arraignment of his party, whose crime made the changes necessary, and they are a means by which to make the repetition of the crime impossible. The details of his plan embody, in all essential respects, the interpretation of the Constitution maintained by the Democratic advocates before the Electoral Commission Mr. Edmunds, who then held, or professed to hold, totally opposite views, has therefore admitted that at that time he was either ignorant or insincere. The proposed law makes it impossible to admit the vote of any State submitting two or more returns, unless both Houses concur in regard to the legality of one of them. The decision of the Electoral Commission made it impossible to reject the vote of a State sending two or more returns, unless both houses concurred in such rejection. Mr. Edmunds now is the same man as Mr. Edmunds then, but with an entirely different set of principles.

In providing for a State tribunal to In providing for a State tribunal to determine the duly elected members of the College, in case of a dispute, he seems to overlook the fact that if any State should fail to make such a provision the duty would still devolve upon Congress of investigating the causes of the dispute, if such a duty is within its Constitutional province. The within its Constitutional province. The Commission held that evidence touching the details of a State election was aligned. It therefore seems to us that this point should be covered by the proposed legislation, in order that all chance of a recurrence of the old difficulty may be avoided. As to the prospects of the passage of the bill, or of any analogous bill, in time for the next any analogous bill, in time for the next run through. Presidential election, there is much doubt. But one thing is is certain. No man will ever again occupy the chair of Washington whose title rests upon political larceny.

Until it came to be acknowledged that it was possible to steal the Presidency of the United States, the nation got along very comfortably under the got along very comfortably under the present provisions of the Constitution ALL WOOL CASHMERES in reference to counting the votes of the Electoral College. Although difficulties arose, attended with occasional acrimonious discussions, the wisdom of the fathers embodied in the fundamental law was found equal to every emergency. Returning Boards and "visiting statesmen" were not numbered among the political paraphernalia of the better era of the Republic. It was reserved for a people cherishing the hatreds engendered by civil war and demoralized by the extravagance and corruption which followed in its train, to discover flaws in the national characcrats to confirm Senator Butler in his ter that the experience of nearly a century had failed to reveal. It is this sad fact that the bill introduced by Senator Edmunds emphasizes. The good old times are gone, and the institutions which served in a period when men were as honorable as they were wise, are ascertained to be unsuited to times when wisdom is rare and honor is rarer. It is in this light, and in this light only, that the proposed innovations can be commended. The events of 1878 77 have forced the American nation to the unwelcome conclusion that a Constitution constructed to perpetuate the political rights of a virtuous people, must be supplemented by appropriate legislation to save it harmless from the machinations of rogues.

The U. S. to Blame.

Upon the official threshold of "the best Government the world ever saw.' Col. Meacham of Modoc fame testined that in all his experience with the western tribes, extending as far back as 1844, he had never known an instance where an Indian outbreak was not directly traceable to some breach of faith on the part of the Government. Sitting Bull told the Peace Commissioners to their faces that the white men were liars, and now Col. Meacham gives evidence which shows that Sitting Bull's opinion was about correct.

Doffing Their Ancient Dress.

The Mikado of Japan having decreed that all his subjects holding official sitnations shall dress like Europeans, they and their wives, the Japanese miliners, who had not seen fashions change for a thousand years, have consigned to Paris the thousands and thousands of native dresses which they had in stock, and Parisian ladies are now wearing them as dressing gowns. They are said to be very becoming, and the bright dies in them-a secret we ought to learn-will stand any amount of washing. Chinese silken skirts, so rate of not more than $4,000,000 wedding ring, are also being sold in quantities; but the attempts to introduce Chinese peaked straw hats into fashion has failed hitherto.

Lever Feed Cutter,

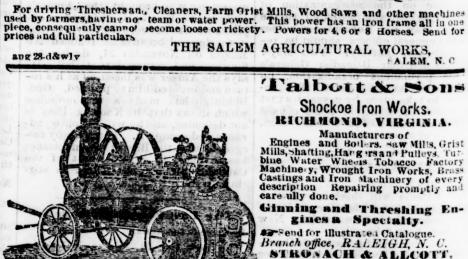

Something entirely new and novel in the feed cutter line. With this cutter the feed in cut off diagonally, instead of square across, as is the case with all other cutters at the same time our cutter has a draw cut, acting exactly on the same principle that a knife is used is cutting off a stick, consequently with our Diagonal Feed Cutter we can cut more feed with less labor in a given time than any other cutter costing twice as much.

HOME REMEDY. A CERTAIN AND SPEEDY GURE FOR SCROFULA

TRADE MARK TRADE MARK (Registered.)

A BRIEF HISTORY: The following is from the Raleigh News, and was a voluntary insertion and not an advertisement: and was a voluntary insertion and not an advertisement:

"Years ago an old Indian left a receipt for curing Scrotula with Mrs Person's father. Mrs. Person lives in Franklinton, or in that section. A child was born to Mrs, Person, and it had the Scrotula. The doctors gave it up to die. She thought of that receipt, that was now old and musty, and hid away in an upstairs drawer. She concluded if the child was bound to die, it wouldn't hurt to follow that receipt. She went out and gathered the herb, got the whiskey, and did as directed to the child. Her child now lives well in d hearty. More than this: Only a few months since a South Carolinian, whose name has slipped us, was suffering with some serofulous affection on the heel. He had been to the Hot Springs! Arkansas, and from there he went to Kittrell Springs. Not beging did him any good. At Kitt ell's they tol: him of Mrs. Person's recipe, and Dr. — wrote to Mrs. Person's recipe, and Dr. — wrote to Mrs. Person's she cured that South Carolinian her receipt was worth money. And the South Carolinian sent her word if she cured him he would give her five hundred dollars. She sent hin directions what to do, and added if they cured bim he could send her twenty-five dollars; she wouldn't ask five hundred. The South Carolinian went home, and shorly siterward sent Mrs. Person a check for twenty-five dollars, and wrote the most grateful letter he knew how. Bless these old Indians. We would like to have one for a near neighbor."

UNEQUALLED AS A BLOOD PURIFIER.

MRS. JOE PERSON : MRS. JOE PERSON:

The medicine I purchased of you last winter proved of lasting cenefit to my son, who was troubled with 27 running sores, some of them quite large, and of a scrofulous nature. In less than three weeks after commencing the use of your remedy, he was perfectly restored, and is to-day quite sound and healthy. As a TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER IT HAS NO EQUAL doping that you may be spared for many years of usefulness, I remain,

Very respectfully.

AS A TONIC AND ALTERATIVE

MOORESVILLE, IREDELL Co., N. C. Being desirous of adding my testimonia to others, concerning the merits of Mrs. Joe Person's kemedy for Scrofula, I take pleasure in saying that as a tonic and alterative I do not think it has an equal, I have fairly tested it, and after trying Vegetine. Sarraparilla, Vinegar Bitters, and various other remedies, I have no hesitation in pronouncing it for smarring to any to Nici I have ever ing it far superior to any 10NIC I have ever used. When I commenced using Mrs. Person's Remedy I was very weak. complections allow, and now I am Well., Respectfully your friend,

MRS, 9, T, BROWN.

THREE CHILDREN IN THREE WEEKS.

CASTALIA, N. C. Mas Joe Person:

Dear Madame—Your letter has been received, and on account of being absent from nome for a week or two, have not had the opportunity to answer it. I certainly will take great pleasure in doing all that is within my power towards getting you patients for treatment of Scioula. I hardly know how to express my gratitude to you for enving my three little children. They took meaticine from my family physician for about two years, with scarcely any relief at all. I tried your remedy, and in less than three weeks they were all perfectly cured, and have never shown any sign of breaking out again. I feel very thankful to you. I can safely say that I believe your remedy to be a certain cure for Sciofula. If I can ever be of any service to you in any way, I want you MRS JOE PERSON:

of any service to you in any way, I want you to be sure and call on me, Yours truly, WM. H. ARBINGTON. It gives me much pleasure to be able to state that I have derived an effectual cure of scrofula from the use of Mrs. Joe Person's remedy for that disease. I had suffered from Scrofula for more than three years, and had despaired of ever getting well. I was treated during that time by three very emine-t physiciaus, without any good result. I then went to the National Surgical Institute, at Atlanta, Ga., and was treated there more than two months, with no better result than my family physicians met with. Aft-r I returned from the Institute was persuaded to try Mrs. Person's remedy, and I had not used it more than a week before I discovered its curative and healing properties, My sores soon began to heal, and the cotor of my skin changed as fast at the sores healed. I had not thought of ever getting well again, but my hopes increased, my low spirited ness fled before the remedy, and I am now enloying splendid health and am in good spirits. The remedy is mild as a purgative, and a strong tonic; it will heal the most stubborn sore in three weeks if taken regularly. It is my opinion that it should be taken some time after the sore is healed, to remove the cause of its effects, It should be taken regularly by all means, for I have sometimes neglected it, from the pressure of business, and in all cases found that the cure a heady made would commence to retrograde, and for this alone it should be taken at the proper time. I would recommend to all who are suffering from scrofula to try it. It will surely cure you if you give it a fair test. I speak from experience, and not from hearsay. I am a grateful recipient of a cure from the use of the and a fam under many and a sting obligations to Mrs. Person for the great reitef I have obtained from its use. Sufferers, tryit and be cured, is my advice.

I am, respectfully,

JAMES A. MORRIS. "It will Cure if Fairly Tested."

KITTEBLLS, N. C. My receipt for the cure of Scrofula has been tried by me with the most unprecedented success for the last twelve years, and have no hesitation in recommending it as a sovereign cure for that disease and as a general fonte and Blood Puriner. It is everywhere giving perfect satisfaction, while my experience with it is too limited for me to specially recommend it for other diseases, bettevent will ultimately prove to be of benefit in all cases arising from impurity of ne obold and probably for other diseases.

A CASE OF CANCER.

A CASE OF CANCER.

PAYETTE VILLE, N. C., Aug. 12, 18.8.

MRS. JOS PERSON:
Dear Madam—I have been using your Remedy for scrotula overfive mouths as an experiment for cancer. The cancer is of long standing, the doctors have been treating it, more or less, for twelve years, it has taken out my upper lip and a good part of my hose. When I began to use your kemedy it was growing rapicly werse, but the medicine scemed to check it very soon, and it has not theade much prograss since, except a out two months ago, the medicine gave out, and I was without several days. It men seemed to start anew, and grew worse very fast until I had taken the medicine about a week, since then it has not changed much. I think if I could have cured me.

For more than a year before using your medicine, I was troubled very much with a disease of the heart, an irregularity in its action. It would miss every third beat for hours, then at other times it would increase in its action, and run up to 20. beats per minute. Since using your medicine I am almost entirely relieved of this, rarely feel it, and then not enough to speak of it. I would recommend any one suffering with heart disease to try your medicine. As a Tonic and Alterative, id on not think it has any superior. I have been using all the most powerful alteratives known to the medical profession for the last 12 years and I know of none superior the last 12 years and I know of none superior to this.
